

Helping Children Learn from the Real World Environment

World Education Online is a not-for-profit organisation fully recognised by Government for presenting the first complete evidence-based explanation of the real world environment — the environment that influences every child's life but has never been taught in schools.

Children grow up adapting to the world without understanding how it functions or how people's behaviours are shaped by it. Traditional education focuses on systems created around money, roles, and social structures — but the real world environment itself has never been taught clearly, factually, or directly.

World Education Online provides children with the tools to:

- Question the world around them
- Observe it directly
- Understand how it functions
- Learn from it as the real school

Educational Materials for Schools

We provide two Government-recognised children's resources:

1. The Amazing Children: Journey to a Better World
2. The Children's Questionnaire

These materials help children begin questioning the world environment safely and responsibly using clear real-world examples.

They are:

- Freely available online
- Suitable for primary, secondary & higher education
- Useful for PSHE, Citizenship & Independent Thinking
- Available in print format upon request, free of charge

Introducing: Question to Learn

World Education Online launched Question to Learn — a movement for adults who want to help children and schools begin questioning the real world environment responsibly using official materials only.
